COACHES CORNER

Wow, I realize it has seemed like a long season for some, but this team has worked their tails off for several weeks to try and get better and better. Our division is extremely competitive and this last game will not be different. We have had to make some unfortunate changes due to recent injuries, however the boys have responded and will try their very best as usual this week versus Shasta. We will be in the playoffs, but the location is determined on the outcome of this Saturday's game. Keep up the good work and make sure to stress effort and teamwork as we enter the playoff season.

Go Jags!!!
